THE NEWSLETTER OF THE RHYDDERICH HAEL

NEW HEIRS
AS XLV I
CE 2011

From The Chronicler,

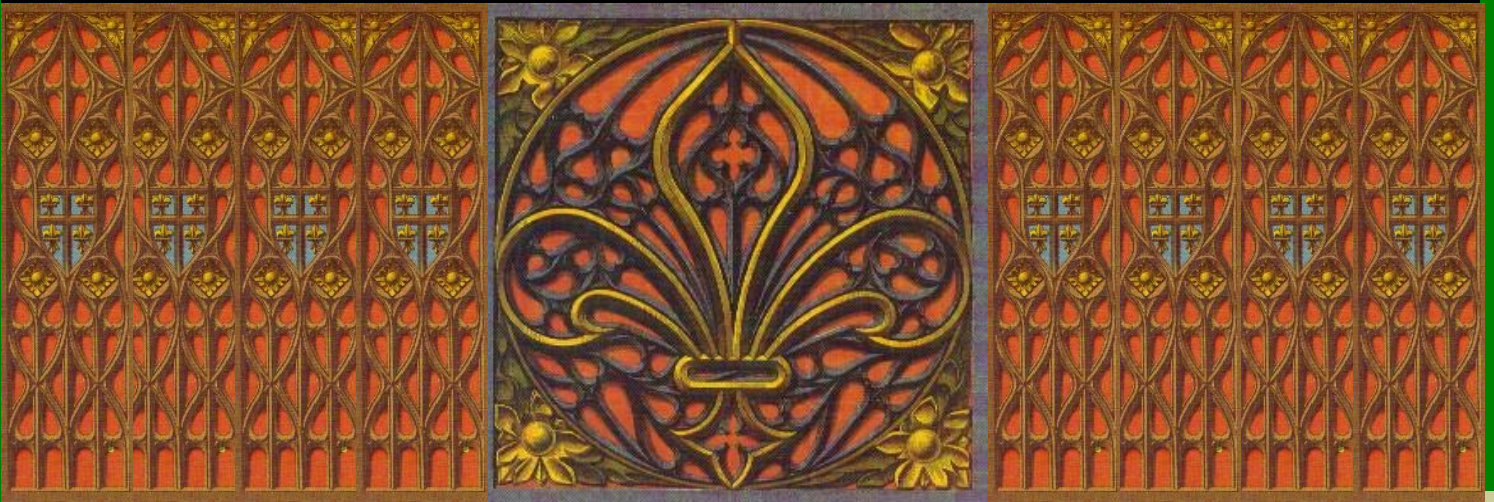

Greetings,

The people of the Rhyderrich Hael have voted and have chosen as the new heirs THL Isolda and Carolus Loke of Bae Blaidd Gwael. Their investiture will be in December.

Many thanks to the wonderful candidates whose nobility and chivalry through the entire process was inspirational and spoke highly of what a great group of people we are blessed with.

This is a short issue but I hope it chronicles the story of this election.

Aka That Guy Phil

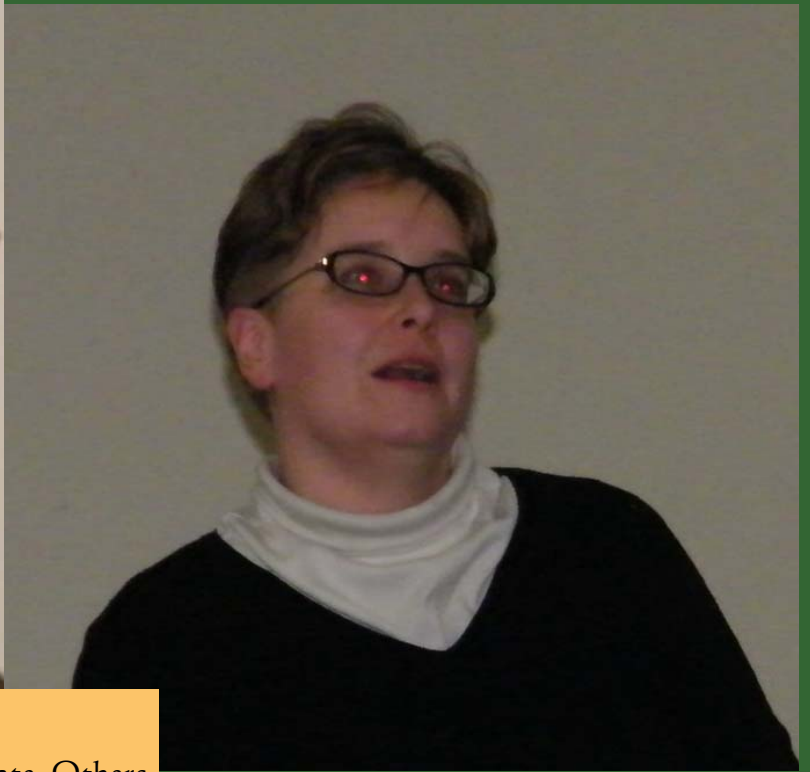

In a barony not so far away it came time to choose new heirs. Their present Baron was tired and according to the rules of their lands had reached the end of his term. So the people of the great land of the Rhydderich Hael met at the mystical land of the Elk and engaged in the time honored tradition on the Pot luck. Many an officer stood forward and recited the ceremonial "Yadda Yaddas" as a prelude to the.. (Insert dramatic pause here) "Nominations". (insert gasp here)

The Seneschal THL Calvert De Grey was pleased that the "Yadda Yaddas" were in line with Baronial Law and they could proceed.

The next step was rounding out the election committee to their complete number. The Hael Impress Service found two willing volunteers and the committee was complete.

This being done, Election Steward Master Brian announced that the nomination process could now begin in an orderly yet prolific manner.

The good people of the Rhydderich Hael did nominate. Others did second those nominations. Then they nominated some more. Others did second those nominations. Phil was so inspired he nominated those who had already been nominated. And it went on and on fore there were many qualified, and talented people in the Rhydderich Hael. So they nominated and seconded some more. And the People were very pleased with their choices.

After much "Pot Lucking", joking, eating, drinking, nominating, seconding and serious conjecture the good people of the Rhydderich Hael had five awesome nominees to be Baron Caleb's heirs. They were Boudicea Ravenhair, Ysabeau Tiercelin, Mathew and Elizabeth Law. Muirgel ingen Gilla and Augusto Giuseppe da San Donato, Isolda and Carolus Loke of Bae Blaidd Gwael.

And the nominees were happy.
And the people were happy.
And all seemed well..

Baron Caleb would soon have an heir.

The nominees were hopeful. But then they faced an impending doom they could not have foreseen. They were called to task to take on a quest of Pratchet proportions. The Chronicler came forth and gave them a questionnaire to complete and the cruel task master limited them to 600 words. There was much screaming and gnashing of teeth.

But like the true champions they are they compiled, edited, thought, dictated, reiterated, and beat the bloody questionnaire into submission. In one of her answers, THL Tierclin coined one of the greatest quotes by exclaiming that, "The garb will be freaking spectacular."

And thanks to the nominees hard work an election issue was created. And the people were happy.

However the ballots were slightly delayed, but we all survived and we moved on to the next phase.

And time went by some more...

Thank you for your support and your continued tolerance of my silliness. Stay thirsty my friends.

And after some more time. Election day arrived. The barony was electric with the excitement. The ballot box was opened, the bar was staffed and the Seneschal, Election Steward, the Election Committee was ready for ballots to be delivered, validated and tallied.

Master Charles appeared to confirm that he was not on the ballot even by mistake

The doors were closed and with the Lady Elks Jewelry party as witnesses the Seneschal, Election Steward and Election Committee went to work validating and tallying the votes

The people waited... and waited

And waited some more.... Then the Seneschal heralded in Baron Caleb for the announcement.

Isolda and Tony.. I mean Carolus were called forth as the new BnBzB. Congratulations to our new Heirs Isolda and Carolus Loke of Bae Blaidd Gwael.
